

Thesis Writing Guide

The ELTE Organisational and Operational Regulations (Volume II Student Requirements (SR)) provide guidelines for writing a thesis (also known as a diploma thesis). The Guidelines, approved by the Academic Council, contain the content, format and other requirements for theses, as well as the criteria for evaluation. The provisions of the Guidelines must be applied to all theses prepared at the Faculty.

A thesis is a written work on a special needs' topic relevant to the given major or specialisation, which certifies that the student is able to independently apply the knowledge they have acquired by drawing on their studies and processing the relevant domestic and international literature and practical or empirical research experience. The student may be assisted in the preparation of the thesis by one or more tutors.